Greetings from 'Berg Student Engagement! We're home to Greek Life, Berg Events Council, student organizations, and events.

Heidelberg has almost 100 student organizations to choose from, so it's easy to get involved. Check out the club listing here! Clubs on campus provide every student with a place that they can express their interests. Getting involved allows you to develop skills as a leader and a student, all while branching out and meeting new people. If you see a club you're excited about, reach out to Student Engagement at engagement@heidelberg.edu and we'll connect you with a student leader.

The Berg Events Council is a fun-filled, student-run organization responsible for planning and promoting social events both on and off-campus. BEC sponsors several signature events throughout the year, most notably Labor Stay Weekend, Homecoming, WinterFest, and Siggys Summer Send-Off. They also offer lots of weekly smaller events, like Craft Nights, Bingo, and Trivia, and they frequently partner with athletics or other student organizations to support collaborative programming!

A big part of Heidelberg's thriving student life is Greek! Did you know that about 25% of undergraduate students at Heidelberg join a Greek society? Heidelberg has five male societies, four female societies, and one mixed-gender society. The Greek community at Heidelberg has been the gateway to life-long friendships, as well as leadership opportunities and scholastic support. Greek members can be found all over campus in every student organization, athletic team, and honorary society, and continually provide thousands of hours and dollars toward the local and global community. All societies are local-affiliated groups, which have many benefits including lower dues, closer bonds, and solid alumni network bases.
