Dear Heidelberg Students,

It is hard to believe a full week has passed since the quarantine was lifted. Our “new normal” continues to move in positive directions every day. Thank you for all you are doing to keep us all here and sharing this Heidelberg experience. I know it is different, but for me, it is so great to have you here. And I know the rest of the faculty and staff feel the same way. As I look out my office window, I rarely see a student not wearing their mask. Thank you! Once again, we move into the weekend. These are important times to mitigate the spread of COVID-19 and keep us all healthy, safe, and on campus. Please have fun, but continue to make choices with the bigger goals for this semester and year in mind.

I want to give you some new details concerning campus dining that we hope will take us through the remainder of the semester:

Beginning with brunch on Saturday, Hoernemann Refectory will offer dine-in or takeout. Please be mindful of groups no larger than 10. You will still be given a take-out container if you choose to grab your meal and go. Weekend dining hours are as follows:
