Greetings from the Owen Center!

The Owen Center for Teaching & Learning is one of the places on campus that you will frequently visit. We offer several support services to students to help you succeed during your academic career at Heidelberg University. Below you will find information on each of the resources our office offers.

Academic Advising: All first year students are advised by an Advising Specialist in the Owen Center. The advisors will work with you throughout your first year at Heidelberg to ensure that you are in the appropriate courses for your intended major and work with you to help develop your academic and career goals. They will be communicating with you via email and text throughout the summer. For advising questions please email Lindsey Baumgartner at lbaumgar@heidelberg.edu

Academic Support Services: We offer a diverse array of academic support services. Supplemental instruction promotes student-centered learning through small group study sessions., while academic coaching helps with the "nuts and bolts" of college success. Finally, our Writing Center provides individual writing assistance for all Heidelberg University classes. For academic support questions please email Morgan Harrigan at mharriga@heidelberg.edu.

Accessibility Services: Students with disabilities or other accessibility needs (allergies, chronic medical conditions, etc.) will find support, resources and advocacy in identifying and ameliorating barriers to accessing their higher education. If you self identify as being disabled or having a disability, have a chronic medical condition, mental health condition, environmental or food allergy; please consider contacting Accessibility Services as soon as you can to determine appropriate accommodations as needed. You can email us at accessibilityservices@heidelberg.edu.

Career Services: The career search can be confusing! The Owen Center offers students and graduates career support through both individual meetings and classroom visits. While the Career Office discusses a variety of topics with students, many of the most common student questions center in the areas of resume/cover letter review, major selection or internship site selection. If you would like to schedule an appointment, please contact Mark McKee at mmckee@heidelberg.edu to schedule a time!
